

KARA EASY WINNER

Takes Chevy Chase Steeple-chase by a Length.

PINS AND NEEDLES' VESTAL

Odds-on Favorite Goes to the Front After Grace Cameron Had Made the Pace for a Mile and Wins by a Length—Four Favorites Reward the Public and Business Improves.

J. W. Colt's Kara, the 8-to-5 favorite, scored an easy victory in the Chevy Chase steeplechase, while Pins and Needles, the odds-on first choice, came home in front in the Vestal Stakes at Henning yesterday.

The track was again heavy, but four favorites won, and on a whole the large crowd had a successful day for there was more money wagered than on any other day since the meeting opened. Scratchers marred the Chevy Chase steeplechase, as only four were left to face the starter, and on form Kara looked to be a good thing for the race, so that he was at all times the favorite. Navajo had quite a following, and was next in demand. The race proved to be only a gallop for Kara. Mr. Taylor permitted Dulcian to make the pace for half the journey, then sent Kara to the front and he remained there for the rest of the race winning, eased up by a length.

Navajo closed with a rush through the stretch and had no trouble getting the place from Essex.

Gold Lady Withdrawn.
Gold Lady was withdrawn from the Vestal Stakes, leaving the race at the mercy of Pins and Needles, who had a very poor field opposed to her, and at all times ruled a prohibitive choice.

As her price indicated, she had a very easy run. After Grace Cameron had pedaled the field for a mile of the journey, Pins and Needles went to the front, and the race for first money was over, she winning easily by a length and a half. Estimate was second, three lengths behind Lady Kara, who was backed heavily at the end to finish second.

Speculation began with a handicap for two-year-olds at six furlongs on the Columbia course. A field of eighteen were carded, but, of course, there was quite a number of absentees. The field went to the post consisting of nine horses.

As usual in handicaps, the race was an open one, and this caused lively speculation. Rosinero was favorite, but Live Wire, Sanguine, Monopolist, Goes Fast, and King Thistle had a large following. The backers of Monopolist were the ones to cash, as he was returned the winner. Rosinero and Clet Turner raced together until well into the stretch, where Monopolist went to the front and won in front by half a length. Clet Turner finished gamely and beat Rosinero a length and a half for second money.

Daily Has Winner.
Bill Daily made the crowd gasp with astonishment when his filly, Killierankie, well supported at 8 to 1, won the handicap at a mile and three-sixteenths. She came from behind in the home stretch and beat Ostreich, backed from 4 to 1 to 5, by a length, in 2:30. Ironsides, with 125 pounds, and a lukewarm second choice, was a bad third.

George Odono's Oracleum, a 9-to-20 favorite, made all the pace in the first event, at seven furlongs, and won in a gallop in 1:29.45. Thomas Lloyd's Ballot Box, backed from 12 to 7, after running wide into the stretch, closed with a rush and got the place from Nancy, 10 to 1, with plenty to spare.

Maiden two-year-olds were asked to go a mile and seventy yards in the fifth race. Norbit, backed from 12 to 7, led to the last furlong pole when Trash, 7-to-10 favorite, moved up and won easily by four lengths, in 1:48. Norbit kept the place from New Garter, 6 to 1, without being extended. Ostreich, well taken at 5, was left at the barrier.

Joe Notter rode three winners.

FAVORITES GET THE MONEY.

San Francisco, Nov. 20.—The San Leandro Handicap was won this afternoon by R. J. Carman's Rifleman. Jeneta ruled the favorite. Before a good-sized crowd at the Army Gymnasium last night the Athletic Association basket-ball team thoroughly trounced the Peck Memorials by 54 to 12.

The Pecks outwitted the soldiers, but science reigned supreme, and a walkover was the result. Robey and Lewis played an aggressive game, while Brown played well on the defense. Line-up and summary:

FAIL TO BURY THE AX

Georgetown and G. W. U. Once More Disagree.

CONTRACT IS STILL UNSIGNED

Although It Appeared as Though Local Universities Had Ended Time-consuming Controversy, It Is Understood Unexpected Opposition Has Developed and Slim Chance of Game.

Although it appeared Tuesday as though the Georgetown-George Washington game Thanksgiving Day was practically assured, it was learned last night that unexpected opposition has developed at Georgetown, and now it seems as though the two colleges are as far apart as they were when the present long-drawn-out controversy started.

The managers of the two teams talked the matter over Monday night, and it was thought that an agreement had been reached. George Washington drew up a contract and sent it to Georgetown. None of the officials is willing to give out any statements, but it is understood that just now there is less chance of the game being arranged than there has been at any time this fall.

The Georgetown team had only the lightest sort of practice yesterday, but at George Washington the squad got a taste of real scrimmage by lining up against a picked team of sailors which is to meet an all-army team.

One of the most interested spectators at Van Ness Park was Phil King, the former Princeton quarter back, who will act in an advisory capacity for George Washington until the end of the season. The ex-Tiger star did not coach yesterday, but he followed the plays closely, and after practice had a long talk with Head Coach Nelson.

ANOTHER TRIAL FOR SQUIRES.

Coffroth Plans to Match Australian with Flynn.

San Francisco, Nov. 20.—Jimmy Coffroth is planning to give Bill Squires one more chance. He intends to reopen the arena at Colma about December 15, and is trying to get Squires to meet either Jim Flynn or Bob Ward. If Squires decides he has had enough of the ring, he will match Ward and Flynn. Squires is believed to be on his way to this city after a sojourn at Hot Springs, Ark.

Coffroth's idea is to get some line on the ability of both Squires and Ward, and, if either can show enough merit to justify it, he will be sent against the winner of the Kaufman-Sullivan bout. Coffroth is also negotiating for a thirty-round contest between Johnny Frazer and Johnny Murphy.

Jack Gleason, who has obtained the December permit for a bout inside the city limits, and who intends to hold the go at night, under a canvas roof at the ball park, probably will set the date for December 6, instead of December 12, as was first announced.

NAVY DOES GOOD WORK.

Coaches Still Looking for Running Mate for Douglas.

Special to The Washington Herald.
Annapolis, Md., Nov. 20.—After secret practice for the last two days, the Navy eleven was put through some stiff and grueling work this afternoon, and the public was allowed to witness the practice. The work of the team was most encouraging to the staff of coaches.

The most pleasing result was the way the 'varsity' showed its ability to hold the opposing team at critical stages. The question of a strong man as Douglass' running mate, half and the full position is still unsettled, but it is believed that Jones and Richardson have the call over the others.

Previous to the above Indian scrimmage against the scrubs, the 'varsity' and freshmen went through a hard half-hour's scrimmage, in which the first team scored only one touchdown, that by Brides. No one was injured.

There are a host of coaches on the ground to-day advising the individual players of mistakes they made on the Princeton game, and attempting to inspire them with a wholesome fear of the Crimson eleven.

TECH AND PREPS PRIMED.

Teams Have Last Long Practice Before the Championship Game.

Preparations for to-morrow's inter-scholastic championship game at Georgetown field was practically completed yesterday by the Technical High and Georgetown Prep teams.

The Preps spent nearly two hours running through plays at Georgetown field, while Tech had her whole squad out for a long signal drill at Van Ness Park.

Thrill, the full back, is out of the game on account of injuries, but Tech will have a most formidable outfit to face the Preps in the most important game of the season. In place of Thrill there will be Blair, who would have been a regular throughout the season were it not that he was ineligible for the high school series. Coach Hecox has tried several combinations during the past ten days, but will not give out his regular line-up until to-morrow.

Jack Gass, Dave Houston, and W. C. Maccher have been agreed upon as officials.

PENN FRESHMEN STRONG.

Rip Up 'Varsity Team in Practice Behind Closed Gates.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—The freshman team of the Pennsylvania cut up lively capers to-day with the 'varsity' eleven in the first scrimmage since the Michigan contest. For the second time this week the practice was secret. The full 'varsity' team, with the exception of Gallagher and Honkbeck, was in line-up.

The team will not go to Winslow Junction till Monday, when they will pick up and take up their old quarters in the Winslow Inn in the balmy air of Jersey.

Burn Football Gear and Have War Dance Around Fire.

Host of Coaches Are Trying to Rid 'Varsity of Idea That Harvard Will Be Easy on Saturday.

New Haven, Nov. 20.—There was a hilarious practice at Yale field this afternoon, followed by the picturesque burning of the scrubs' football gear and the celebration of the 'Omega Lambda Chi' dance.

With feathers stuck in their elastic head bands, the 'varsity' swooped down upon the scrub team emitting piercing warwhoops and tearing up the 'Harvard Line,' as they called it. First Berger scored and Burch kicked the goal. This was too much for the scrubs. They punted the ball far out into the stands, and Quarter Back Gus produced a miniature ball from his jacket with which he made a long run and touchdown, while the entire 'varsity' chased him down the field. He was immediately scalped upon being captured behind the goal posts.
